CAPTAIN MARKO

He comes from a hardworking seamen-driven family and has always been comfortable meeting new people and adapting to new environments. In fact, he enjoys it. He's always been up for a challenge and finds satisfaction in finding solutions to difficult tasks. His passion for boating started at the young age of 15 when he passed his license for boat leader, and he's been hooked ever since.

CHAMP ATLANTIS

A white and black motor yacht, the Champ Atlantis, is shown cruising on the water at sunset. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a strong golden glow and lens flare effects across the image. The yacht has a modern design with a large black canvas top on the upper deck where several people are visible. The hull is white with black accents. The water is dark with white foam from the yacht's wake. In the background, a coastline with hills is visible under the twilight sky.
